Cutting Instructions :

Robyn's Runner 2/2

Sashiko - kiwi style panel.

Stitch your panel with the cream sashiko thread.

Press the panel on the wrong side and then trim each of the four designs to 14" x 9¼".

Border fabric

Cut two, 3¾" strips x WOF * width of fabric.

Recut into two, 3¾" x 38½" rectangles.

Cut two, 1½" strips x WOF

Recut into three, 1½" x 14" rectangles.

Cut one, 11" strip x WOF

Recut into two, 11" x 20" rectangles.

Binding fabric

Cut three, 2½" strips x WOF

Sewing instructions:

Choose which order you want to place your sashiko panels and sew a 1½" x 14" rectangle between the four panels.

Sew a 3¾" x 38½" strip to the top and bottom.

Sew a 11" x 20" rectangle to either end of the runner.

Mark the centre of your runner and with your quilt ruler place the 45 degree line on the seam line and draw a line on both sides making a triangle.

Cut on the marked lines.

Quilting instructions:

Cut your backing fabric in half so that you have two strips 23½" wide. Sew the two short ends together. Press the seam open.

Lay the backing fabric right side down and pat out your batting on top of the backing fabric. Lay your completed, pressed top right side up. Pin or baste the three layers together.

Quilt in the ditch around the panels and then meander stitch around the sashiko stitching. You may wish to duplicate some of the koru designs on the borders.

Binding your runner:

Join the three, 2½" binding strips with a diagonal seam into one long strip. Trim and press the seams open. Press the strip in half lengthways with wrong sides together.

Starting about half way down one side, join the binding to the edge of the runner with a ¼" seam, mitreing at each corner as you go and joining the strips together at the starting point. Turn the folded edge of the binding to the back of the runner and slip-stitch the binding in place.

Optional: Make and attach tassels at either end of the runner.

Finished!

Happy stitching
